27. October 2020

Dear Swiss Friends of Oxford University,

I would like to thank you again for the grant I received for my study week in September. In this week I was able to closely study my optional subject – The Spanish Civil War – through primary sources.

Despite the restrictions due to Covid-19, we were able to study a wide range of sources covering topics from the origins of the Civil War and the Second Republic to Nationalist and Republican politics. The week, designed to concentrate on the study of primary source material, provided the foundation for two extended assignments contributing towards the final result of my degree, for which I will concentrate on the involvement of the European Great Powers in the Spanish Civil War.

This intensive week contributed greatly to my understanding of the subject and was a valuable part of the history programme. Thank you for your support and please contact me if any further information should be required.

Best wishes,

Anja Segmüller
